

Multi-Purpose Currency Processor System

System expandability

The UW-200, was developed by taking advantage of the technical expertise we gathered in the U.S. market. The UW-200 when used in combination with our currency discriminator (GFR) will greatly improve productivity. The UW-200 offers the flexibility needed to link various operations with your existing system.

UW-200

Multi-Purpose
Compact Currency Sorter

Glory's New Generation Cash Processor!

The UW-200 handles all currency processing tasks--
Denomination Sorting, Authentication, Value counting, and Orientation Sorting

Compact Yet Versatile

All of the features are packed into a compact desktop size. The UW-200 meets the various cash handling requirements of vaults, casinos and transport companies.

High Productivity

The UW-200 counts currency at a high speed of 720 bills per minute. In addition, The open hopper system and continuous feed mechanism of the UW-200 maximizes efficiency for processing large sums of bills. And, the auto batch restart features saves time on each transaction by automatically re-starting the UW-200 once the currency is pulled.

User-Friendly Operation

Simply put bills in the hopper and press the start key, the UW-200 will start operating. This user-friendly UW-200 allows an unskilled operator to use the machine without any special training, reducing training and employment costs. The pre-programmed stacker settings will be covered most of user's requests. Operating and changing the UW-200 setup is fast and easy. In addition, the UW-200 is very quiet, producing only 75dB during operation

Ergonomic Design

The UW-200 is designed for tabletop operation that minimizes the operator's movement thereby reducing stress and tension. The reject pocket and feed mechanism are in close proximity of each other to minimize balancing time.

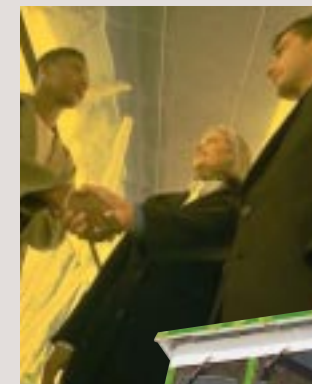

Detailed Setting Available

The UW-200's pockets are software controlled to meet your individual needs. The availability of flexible stacker settings allows complete use of basic features.

After-sales service

Glory's trained service personnel at our distributors as well as in our overseas subsidiaries are ready to provide full after-sales services to customers all over the world.
